

Health & Wellbeing Statement

Brazen Productions Ltd ('Brazen') is dedicated to promoting and supporting the health, safety and wellbeing of every trainee, intern, freelancer, supplier, employee, cast member, contributor and collaborator.

The company's approach is not just about minimising risks but also developing working practices that proactively enhance the physical and mental wellbeing of all people associated with the company and with Jules Hussey in her freelance capacity.

We are committed to providing an open culture where everyone's views and needs are considered without prejudice. We will respect any sensitive information given by individuals.

Brazen is committed to providing equal support for both mental and physical health.

We will use the callit app on every project as a tool to help create a safer and fairer workplace.

At the end of each production Brazen will circulate a survey on health and wellbeing to be completed anonymously by cast and crew to enable the company to monitor and improve how it treats and supports people.
